Role of AEC In Space Agency Is In Question

Senators Generally Welcome Proposed Civilian Space Unit

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senators generally welcomed today President Eisenhower's plan for a new civilian-controlled space agency, but some wondered what part the Atomic Energy Commission might play.

The possibility that nuclear propulsion might eventually replace chemically fueled engines as the motive power in space had led to some suggestions that space projects be assigned to the AEC.

Failed to Mention AEC

Eisenhower made no direct mention of the AEC in proposing to Congress the establishment of a new National Aeronautics and Space Agency to develop "an imaginative and well-conceived space program."

"That is the explosive angle," said Sen. Mundt (R-SD), a member of the newly created Special Senate Committee on Space and Astronautics.

Four members of the Senate space group—senators Anderson (D-NM), Bricker (R-Ohio), Hickenlooper (R-Iowa) and Russell (D-Ga)—also serve on the Senate House Atomic Energy Committee.

"I believe there is a place for consideration of atomic propulsion in our space program," Hickenlooper said in an interview. "I'm studying the presidential space message now."

To Send Congress Details

Eisenhower said details of his program will be sent to Congress later.

He picked the existing National Advisory Committee for Aeronautics as the foundation for the proposed aeronautics and space agency.

He proposed a civilian director, backed by a board of scientists, technicians and experts, to operate the new unit.

Marshall Plan 10 Years Old

Foreign Aid Is Still Major U.S. Policy

WASHINGTON (AP) — The President of the United States scratched his name on the bottom of the document. He looked solemnly at the congressional leaders and Cabinet advisers around him and said:

"This is a momentous step in the world's quest for an enduring peace."

With these words 10 years ago today, Harry Truman launched the famous Marshall Plan.

His signature set in motion perhaps the most massive aid program the world has ever known.

Its immediate aim was to save Western Europe, still wracked by the wounds of war, from chaos and communism. It got its name from Gen. George C. Marshall, then secretary of state, who had outlined the plan in an address at Harvard University June 5, 1947.

Immediately foreign aid experts rushed the first shipments to Europe. They cut enough corners to move the first shipment—wheat for drought-stricken Austria—to East Coast ports within six days.

Even before Paul Hoffman was named Marshall Plan chief April 6, emergency food and raw materials shipments had been arranged for Italy, where Communists were making a big bid for an election victory April 18. The Communists were beaten overwhelmingly.

At that time the flow of food, machinery, raw materials and fuel was figured to cost 16 billion

Avalanches Bury California Train

SAFETY 97 persons aboard was stranded in a snowed near Donner Summit in the Sierra 165 miles northeast of San Francisco.

Two avalanches of snow buried a 22-car mail train on the track ahead, stalling the crack west-bound passenger train which followed. All 23 on the mail train got out but two trainmen were injured.

The "City," en route from Chicago to San Francisco, was hung up just three miles from where it was stalled in snow for days in 1952.

Some 200 persons were stranded in the mountain chain that runs along the state's western boundary—150 of them at Donner Summit Lodge. Many of them were skiers.

The governor alerted National Guardsmen in Santa Clara County, south of San Francisco, and at Stockton in the Central Valley where flood dangers threatened.

Only light rains were forecast for today, lessening the flood threat somewhat, although the California remained perilously soggy.

Rotary snowplows battled to keep open one lane of the only remaining east-west highway link across the Sierra, U.S. 40 State highway employees said that if they failed, it would take days to reopen the road.

A three-foot wall of water washed through Pleasant Hill 20 miles east of Oakland, and receded a short time later. The water flooded nearby Gregory Gardens, Sherman Acres and Garthwick, all subdivisions.

The overflow from Walnut Creek inundated homes and businesses near Oakland.

Cemented, sandbags along San Francisco Creek at Palo Alto, south of San Francisco, held up although battered by debris and log-laden waters.

Sharply Divided House to Vote On Highway Bill

Measure to Provide $1.8 Billion For U.S. Road Construction

WASHINGTON (AP) — A sharply divided House votes today on the year's second major antirecession bill — to pump an additional $1,800,000,000 into highway construction.

On the expected close roll call test hinged the chance that the compromise measure could be sent to President Eisenhower before the start of Congress' 10-day Easter recess later in the day.

House rejection of the compromise would send it back to a Senate conference committee, with no chance for further action until Congress returns April 14. Acceptance, sending the measure on to the Senate, would clear the way for final passage today.

Considered Certain

Senate passage was considered certain, because the conferees on Tuesday largely accepted the Senate provisions.

Eisenhower signed the session's first antirecession bill, a $1,850,000,000 housing measure, Tuesday.

Highway bill opposition in the House appeared to center on the provision for regulation of billboards along the 41,000-mile network of expressways now being built — the interstate system.

One House member told a reporter, "I've never seen any lobbying like this since the Volstead Act. On one side you have the garden clubs, on the other the outdoor advertising industry."

Would Give Incentives

The billboard provision would give incentives to the states to control advertising signs along the interstate system. For signing agreement to regulate billboards, they would be paid a bonus of one half of 1 per cent of the cost of the interstate segment covered by the agreement. This would be in addition to the 90 per cent of the cost already borne by the federal government.

Drastic Acts Taken By Cuba President

TORNADO MOVES TOWARD DOWNTOWN AREA—This tornado funnel which struck Wichita Falls, Texas came within a block of the building from which this photograph was taken. The funnel was one of three to hit this north Texas city Wednesday.

1 Killed, 2 Missing, 13 Injured

3 Twisters Strike North Texas City

WICHITA FALLS, Tex. (AP) — Three tornado funnels whirled a deadly pattern across this north Texas city Wednesday. One man was killed, two were missing and hospitals listed 13 injured.

The twisters, which struck at about 6 p.m. (CST), demolished or damaged 175 homes and business houses.

Sirens wailed a warning that was largely ignored. Hundreds braved torrential rain and hail in the streets to watch the tornadoes. Many waited until the funnels were almost upon them before diving for shelter.

One funnel struck from the northwest, counter to the path generally taken by tornadoes, and narrowly missed the downtown area. A second hit a residential area west of the city and the third struck suburban Deandale, eight miles to the east.

At the same time, twisters dipped around north Texas and set off alarms at a number of towns. There was some damage, but no injuries. Much of Texas and Oklahoma was under a tornado alert during the day.

Bill Hunter, Wichita Falls Record-News reporter, said of the downtown funnel: "It looked like a curtain had been lowered to just below the horizon."

"Then the funnel poked through the clouds. It was dark, dusky colored...charcoal black," he said.

A storm described as a tornado struck the southwestern Oklahoma community of Elgin, causing widespread damage. One man was bruised by the heavy hail.

Another tornado reportedly damaged a farm near Cement, Okla., and slightly injured a woman.

Wiley Taylor, 55, a dairy farmer, was killed when his Deandale home collapsed around him.

The family of George Ogle of Wichita Falls said he had been missing since shortly before the tornado struck. Police identified the other missing man as J. J. Jay.

Most witnesses said three tornadoes hit the city and its surrounding area. The Weather Bureau said there may have been three tornadoes that converged on the city or three funnels from the same tornado cloud.

Judge Buzzard ruled there are 224 eligible electors in the district; that there are 199 valid signatures on the original petition filed with board; that there were 35 names on the counter-petition; that there are 22 signatures on the two counter-counter-petitions whose names are also on the counter petition; that the original petition was filed by the relators with the board Oct. 31; that the counter-petition was on file the evening of Nov. 26 that a counter-counter-petition with 13 names was filed Dec. 17; that a counter-counter-petition with nine names was filed Dec. 30 and that 75 per cent of the qualified electors of the district equals 168 qualified electors.

Judge Buzzard ruled that final action was not taken on Nov. 26

Savage Storms Lash Coastal New England
BOSTON, Mass. (AP) — Coastal New England counted its damage losses in the millions and kept a wary eye on the Atlantic which was expected to flood beachfronts and pound over sea walls again today.

The Weather Bureau said tides would run from one to three feet above normal from Portland, Maine, to Nantucket, Mass.

Winds, which Wednesday reached more than 60 miles an hour onshore and up to hurricane force over 75 miles an hour offshore, diminished. The storm center moved seaward.

The northeast storm Wednesday churned the Atlantic into a fury. Tides and crashing surf flooded coastal communities in Massachusetts and Maine, marooned hundreds of persons, undermined scores of cottages and business establishments, washed out roads and spewed debris, sand and boulders onto highways.

The storm is the 18th to hit New England since December, and considered by many the worst spring storm in some 21 years.

Collision Probed
No one was hurt when cars driven by Marshall Gilyan, 31, of Neville Island, Pa., and Clifford Shaw, 52, of Lisbon, collided on Rt. 30, five miles east of Hanover, Wednesday at 3:50 p.m. State highway patrolmen are still investigating the case.

Three Harsh Decrees Issued By Government

Workers Told to Kill If Necessary to Stay At Jobs During Strike

HAVANA, Cuba (AP) — President Fulgencio Batista's government today authorized workers to kill if necessary to stay on their jobs when rebel leader Fidel Castro issues his long-threatened call for a general strike.

The order—one of three of the harshest decrees in the history of the Cuban republic—was issued by Batista and his Cabinet after an all-night meeting.

A second decree barred any judge from issuing a ruling against a government official or agency or against any government or legal opposition leader. Judges who failed to obey would be immediately dismissed.

The third order said any employer who ordered a work stoppage of any kind could be jailed up to six months.

All government ministers were authorized to issue licenses to bear arms to Cuba's 160,000 public employees and all other workers. The decree absolved workers of steps they thought necessary—including killing—to prevent being forced into joining a strike.

The government also decreed that anyone joining a general strike would lose his job permanently. When "this penalty was first applied in 1935 it quickly broke a general strike."

Despite solid support of labor union leaders for Batista, Castro claims that workers are secretly organized to follow him. He has threatened that if his rebellion succeeds, he will try for treason any officials who keep working after his strike call is issued.

Two columns of Castro's rebels were reported moving toward Santiago, attacking communications as the advanced.

Approaching Santiago
A rebel communiqué said one column of guerrillas was approaching Santiago, Cuba's second largest city and the capital of the easternmost province of Oriente, from Castro's mountain headquarters to the west in the Sierra Maestra.

Another force led by Castro's brother Raul destroyed communications around the sugar mill city of Sagua de Tanamo and apparently moved on toward Santiago, 50 miles to the southwest. In contrast to the small bands which previously had swept down from

Street Lighting Problem

Despite what appears to be an attractive offer by the Ohio Edison Co., City Council members have shown a hesitancy to sell the city's street lighting system to the utility firm in exchange for better illuminated streets.

There's nothing wrong with Council's slow approach to a decision. It indicates that Council is concerned with increased costs of operating city government and wants to avoid unnecessary obligations.

On the other hand, the councilmen are as aware as the rest of Salem's citizens that the present street lighting system not only is outdated, it sometimes refuses to function. Old lines, buried beneath the ground, become shorted in wet weather and then the street lights emit only a feeble glow.

The Ohio Edison Co. Tuesday night offered the city $52,021 to purchase the existing system outright. The price was $19,838 more than Edison's original offer made last May.

If city officials agree to the Edison contract, the annual street lighting bill would be $24,104. Present bills amount to about $12,000. City maintenance costs are additional.

Under the Edison proposal, it would replace the present underground wiring system with overhead lines and increase the illumination of street lights throughout the city. Installation, operation and maintenance would be the responsibility of the utility firm.

During the administration of former mayor Dean Cranmer, initial steps were taken by the city to convert the system to the more modern "white way" lights. Brighter downtown lights were installed, with merchants cooperating on an assessment basis to share the costs. Other improvements were made within the limit of city funds.

The city can continue with its street lighting improvements on a year-to-year basis or it can sell its own system to the Ohio Edison and secure better illumination almost immediately.

It's not easy to let go of something you already own unless there's a valid reason for it. That's why it is not an easy decision for Council to make.

Motive Must Be Considered

Members of the Senate Judiciary Committee who are pondering the idea that the Supreme Court should have its judicial wings clipped by legislative authority must consider the motive of the would-be wing clippers.

They are, for the most part, men who have been outraged by Supreme Court decisions offensive to them on grounds of race prejudice and anti-Communist fervor. They are unable to go along with rulings of the court that have tended to put human freedom and human rights above the issues of the day.

Historically, this is a chronic problem for the Supreme Court, whose rulings over a long span of years have reflected the changing temper of the justices, often at the expense of infuriating critics who did not like what was reflected.

After the Civil War, the Supreme Court invalidated most of the civil rights legislation designed to aid southern Negroes. That pleased Southerners, infuriated Northerners. Just before the turn of the century, conservatives were pleased and liberals displeased when the court ruled that a federal income tax was unconstitutional.

During the 20th century, the Supreme Court continued to reflect the views of its conservatives. It was not until 1937 that its members began to please liberals and displease conservatives. That is the composite temper which prevails now.

Any proposal to clip the Supreme Court's wings as a coordinate branch of the government, on the basis of what its members are doing in a particular period, is open to question. The court's appellate jurisdiction can be limited by "such regulations as the Congress shall make." But if Congress were to make regulations on the basis of "such issues as the politician in Congress hall make," the status of the court could be reduced drastically.

It has been charged that the court sometimes rules as if it had become a third legislative chamber, superior to the House of Representatives and the Senate.

It would be fully as dubious a policy for Congress to interfere with the court as if it had become a second judiciary, competent and willing to interpret the constitutionality of laws. Two wrongs would not make a right.

Canada Threw the 'Rascals' In

The political omen in the Canadian election is the size of the landslide for the Conservative party already in office. It now has 209 seats in Parliament out of 265. Before the election, it had 113, one vote less than a majority. In the landslide, the Social Credit party was skunked, and the Cooperative Commonwealth Federation whittled to the vanishing point. The Liberal party was reduced from 106 to 47.

Unemployment was the main issue of the election. But within that issue was the issue of whether or not Canada wanted to follow Prime Minister John Diefenbaker's Conservative course away from closer trade relations with the United States, or Lester Pearson's course toward even closer relations. Diefenbaker's party, which upset 22 years of Liberal rule last year, is embracing a more dynamic nationalism, emphasizing closer relations with Britain and the British Commonwealth.

Under Liberal policies, Canada had its greatest boom, due largely to its heavy exports of newsprint, minerals and raw materials to the United States. When the slowdown in U.S. buying began to let the steam out of the Canadian boom, however, the political reaction north of the border was a wave of misgivings about over-dependency on U.S. business turnover.

The size of the Conservative landslide is now in the same position as Franklin D. Roosevelt was in after the 1936 landslide confirmed what was only half visible in 1932—that voters heartily approved of policies whose popularity he, himself scarcely had been given time to comprehend.

The Meat in the Coconut

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP)—You are going to live — for a long, long time—in a world where both the United States and the Soviet Union hold in readiness hydrogen bombs that can blow each nation, and perhaps humanity, off the map.

That's the reality you face, so you can listen with one ear to the jockeying, the propaganda and the arguments now going on about stopping the tests of nuclear weapons.

That much is clear — although he didn't say it in so many words — from Secretary of State Dulles' news conference, one of the most revealing and productive conferences he's held in a long time.

This country suffered a propaganda defeat this week — and Dulles admitted it—when the Soviets announced they would stop testing nuclear weapons themselves.

This didn't have much practical meaning since they left themselves an out: they said they'd feel free to resume their tests if this country continued testing. Since this country will, no doubt, the Soviets will.

And Dulles not only reaffirmed the American decision to have nuclear tests this summer but indicated the United States was thinking of more tests.

He said this country has been willing to stop its tests as part of a program leading to the elimination of nuclear weapons but that the Soviets don't show any inclination to go that far.

The idea that this country would be willing by itself to get rid of its nuclear weapons—built up at enormous cost over many years — looks like a pipe-dream and for very realistic reasons: So long as this country has hydrogen bombs that can destroy the Soviet Union, the Soviets will be reluctant to start a war of any kind. That's the biggest single deterrent to Soviet aggression this country has.

But if this country agreed to eliminate its hydrogen weapons, communism with its enormous manpower — both in the Soviet Union and Red China—would have a huge advantage over the West.

So the question arises: Would any American government in its right mind give the Soviets such an advantage? Even if some American administration wanted to do so, it's unlikely Congress would permit it.

Then Dulles explained why this country wants to go on testing: if nuclear weapons can't be eliminated altogether, then the United States wants to develop weapons which could destroy an enemy but be so refined that they would not destroy the rest of humanity by radioactive fallout.

But the meat in the coconut came midway in the news conference when Dulles was asked if this country — once it developed smaller and "safer" bombs—would keep its vastly destructive store of hydrogen bombs.

This was his answer: "I just don't know what the program is in that respect, and it is quite a long way off before we could get to that, and I think that is a rather academic question at the moment."

"I assume we might retain some, but that will be a military decision, probably to be made maybe 5 or 10 years from now." In other words: so far as this government can see into the future now it plans to keep the devastating hydrogen bombs. If we do, the Soviets will. They've shown no signs of doing otherwise.

Baruch's Warning

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Elder Statesman Tells of Inflationary Danger

Bernard M. Baruch, elder statesman, has no axe to grind. He is retired from any business activity and devotes himself to philanthropic and public service interests. What he says, therefore, out of an abundance of experience with the ups and downs of the national economy, can be listened to with confidence by all groups—labor, management, and political parties.

An "B.M." as he is familiarly known in Washington, tells the Senate Finance Committee at its hearings that the danger of inflation is greater than the dangers of the present recession. He deplores the pressure of every economic group for advantages for itself and argues against tax cuts, even hinting that some tax increases might be necessary.

"Each group," he says, "wants to shift the burden of dislocation to someone else. Each wants special consideration, arguing that its wages or prices or profits must be kept up to avoid a depression."

"Nothing is more dangerous than this notion that economic salvation lies through government intervention. Government did not keep us from getting into our present condition. How can we rely upon it to get us out of it?"

"A tax cut will increase the deficit, add to the debt and further weaken the government's credit. To reduce revenues before our defenses are secure and our debt manageable is uneconomic and immoral."

BUT MR. BARUCH'S main fire is directed against the wage-price spiral. He says: "Nothing would be more effective in turning the tide than to halt the never ending spiral of wages and prices. The best stimulant to our economy would come from price reductions. The consumer, who has no lobby or bargaining agent, is belatedly rebelling against having every wage and cost increase passed on to him. If industry and labor continue to push up wage, price and profit levels, they will price themselves out of the market. Consumer resistance will grow, further depressing economic activity and adding to unemployment. Foreign goods will enter our markets in increasing quantities with unsettling effects on our domestic economy, our tariff policies and our allies and friends."

There is in the Baruch statement a hint about the alternative—namely, wage and price control—as he declares:

"No one is more concerned to see labor preserve its gains than

I am. But we must halt the wild, unmerry chase of prices, wages and profits. We prefer not to compel this by legislative fiat or executive order. We rely upon individual action, self-discipline, and enlightened selfishness of labor and industrial leaders. If they cannot recognize that self-interest requires concern for the national interest, then they and the nation as a whole will be made to suffer. If they will not adjust voluntarily and in time to the law of supply and demand, the adjustment eventually forced on them will be much more painful.

"It would be an inspiring and salutary thing if the leaders of our great labor unions and businesses would jointly pledge to the President that for one year there will be no increase in wages or prices and that profit margins would at least be frozen."

MORE AND MORE there is talk in Washington about the failure to restrain the labor monopolies which are virtually fixing higher and higher prices. The labor monopoly in the auto industry, for example, is about to increase the costs of automobiles.

Which would the nation prefer—economic anarchy as at present, with its dangerous declines and the accumulating of huge deficits in the treasury as "pump priming" measures are voted by Congress or some form of economic restraint such as wage and price control?

If the Congress voted for a one-year wage-and-price-control law, it could halt the trend toward inflation at least long enough to permit the national economy to gain strength. But if nothing is to be done to restrain organized greed—and particularly the politically minded union leaders who feel they cannot win their offices unless they win increases in wages—then the present recession will indeed deepen into a real depression and the end result could be wage and price control anyhow.

So the alternatives which elder statesman Baruch now presents are unmistakably clear in their warning of the disaster that lies ahead unless the right measures of restraint are applied now.

Few men in Congress for political reasons, would dare to come out in favor of the advice just given them, but an informed public opinion some day will have to demand what nobody really likes—namely, wage and price controls.

Unless Congress, which is eager to fight "administered prices" by industry, is as ready to do battle against industrywide bargaining by national unions which set the wage costs and indirectly the prices of the major products in America today, the national economy will hardly wind up the current recession before it runs into an inflationary crisis and crash that may be much worse than anything yet experienced.

The Eternal Triangle

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—The eternal triangle in most homes these days: wages, taxes, prices.

Moving up into a higher income bracket has been the happy lot of many American families in the last 20 years. The majority managed to translate this into a higher standard of living. But it isn't as easy as it sounds.

Taxes have bitten deep into the wage and salary increases. Lately state and local taxes have been rising faster than federal.

And prices have soared so high that the income increases had to be substantial for the family just to stand still in terms of purchasing power.

When anything happens to shrink this income even a little — loss of overtime pay, shorter work weeks, smaller profits from the family store, lowered dividends—the hurt comes quickly.

A married couple with two children who take the usual deductions in computing income returns would have to have a gross income of $6,457 in 1958 to be actually as well off as they were in 1939 earning $3,000.

Federal income and social security taxes took $30 out of gross income in 1939 and will take $72 out of the higher 1958 gross. More, the loss in purchasing power of the dollar through inflation whittles $2,765 from the $6,457 gross of 1958 in terms of 1939 dollars, based on the consumer price index of the National Industrial Conference Board.

So in terms of the 1939 dollar, the real spending potential of the family with a $3,000 income in 1939 and a $6,457 income today is the same — $2,970.

On the same basis of figuring purchasing power after the double squeeze of taxes and inflation, the family with a $5,000 income in 1939 must get $11,140 this year to come out even. What was left over after federal taxes in 1939 was $4,941—the same figure left over today after the much heavier taxes and the huge bit of inflation.

But many families live better today than before the war without having doubled their incomes—although none could if their incomes hadn't gone up at all.

There are several reasons. For one, any index of the cost of living is based on what the average family is presumed to spend on many goods and services. Lots of folk spend nothing on many of these items.

For another, cost cutting manufacturing processes have kept the prices of a lot of today's necessities (1939's luxuries) from rising as much as the general trend of all goods and services.

Sea Can Actually Outproduce Land

Oceans Contain Huge Amounts of Foodstuffs

(Fourth in series)

(Written for The New Bedford Standard-Times Associated Press)

If the world's population—about 2½ billion—triples during the next century, and it is expected to, humanity must turn to the oceans for new sources of food to maintain its living standards.

The land masses of the world are being rapidly depleted of basic resources. The sea is still a bulging storehouse, not only of minerals and metals—but of enormous quantities of foodstuffs.

In terms of food, the sea can actually outproduce the land. A New England harbor, properly cultivated, could produce nine tons of clam meat per acre annually—three times the amount of comparable food an Ohio farmer could produce on one acre.

Eventually, marine scientists say, the oceans may be stirred artificially to bring up nutrients from the bottom so sunlight can get at them and so increase the sea's productivity of food stuffs. One Method Outlined

Here's one way in which this process is envisaged:

In most areas, a vertical pipe shoved down into the sea would carry a stream of water either up or down, once it was started, and if uninterrupted would go on indefinitely.

This is because ocean surface water is saltier and, therefore, heavier, than deep water, when the two are at the same temperature. As surface water goes down the pipe, it tends to be cooled to the same temperature as the water outside the pipe—but being heavier because of its salinity, it keeps on flowing downward.

It works in the opposite direction. If bottom water is started up the pipe, it tends to get warmer. But because bottom water is slightly fresher, it also is lighter than the surface water surrounding it, so it tends to rise and flow out the top of the pipe.

The French government is experimenting with a system of such pipes. In this instance, it is trying to produce fresh water from the ocean by applying the salinity differences to a distilling process. But the operation would serve very well to 'stir' the sea for increased food production.

Neglecting Oceans Potential Presently, man is neglecting great areas of the ocean's nutritional potential. Of some 16,000 seafood species, only a dozen or so are used commercially to any significant extent. Thousands of others, including such unlikely sounding candidates as barnacles, could make valuable contributions.

Further, in the ocean, the absence of fences or lines of ownership makes it difficult to introduce the element of systematic cultivation even though this is highly desirable from the standpoint of increased marine productivity.

But it is only a question of time before a marine-minded country in search of cheap foodstuffs will start a large-scale marine agricultural station.

Next: The Ocean and Radioactivity.

North Georgetown

The Volunteer Fire Department was called to the W. O. Stanley farm Saturday afternoon where an explosion on the tractor had set fire to the barn.

The barn was completely destroyed but all livestock and some farm machinery were saved.

The barn, including hay and grain, were partially covered by insurance.

species of marine life, only a dozen or so are used commercially to any significant extent. Thousands of others, including such unlikely sounding candidates as barnacles, could make valuable contributions.

Some steps toward more intense exploitation of the sea are already being taken. The British are seeking to utilize the nutritional properties of seaweed in commercial quantities. The South Africans have a fish meal project providing an inexpensive protein source for human consumption.

It is possible, marine scientists say, to make money with a fish product selling for as little as 1½ cents a pound; ways could doubtless be found to convert food fish into some form, perhaps like

Cancer Research Makes Gains

The amount of material published on cancer each year is staggering. But this is a good thing because it shows not only the intense interest in the subject, but also it is evidence of research knowledge on means of controlling and treating this dread disease.

The 1957 booklet on Cancer Facts and Figures put out by the American Cancer Society brings out both encouraging features of this battle, and also defects.

About 150,000 Americans were saved from cancer in 1957, the booklet points out. About 75,000 more might have been saved by earlier and better treatment, even with present knowledge.

MOST READERS know that the two treatments for cancer available today are removal by surgery and the use of radiation, either by X-rays or radium, or by radioactive preparations such as the cobalt bomb.

But scientists are by no means satisfied with these methods and are looking seriously for new and better means of prevention and treatment. These have generally not yet reached the stage of practical use, but some observations are promising for the future.

FOR EXAMPLE, the report from the Sloan-Kettering Institute for Cancer Research points out a number of important advances during the past two years.

Well persons have been shown to possess a natural resistance against implanted cancer not present in patients with the advanced disease. Furthermore, studies have indicated that this natural defense is related to a particular chemical found in the blood.

Another observation is the discovery and purification of a substance which may open the way toward the development of a general diagnostic test for cancer. Such a test would be of the greatest importance since it might reveal cancer in locations difficult to diagnose otherwise and hence bring about its recognition in an early stage when it could be treated successfully.

THERE ARE ONLY a few of the research investigations which have been reported in the cancer field. It seems virtually certain that some of these, or perhaps some yet to be discovered, can be translated into great practical value.

Now, I should like to re-emphasize the danger signals of cancer so that anyone who notices them can obtain skilled advice and treatment at once.

These are: unusual bleeding or discharge; a lump or thickening in the breast or elsewhere; a sore that does not heal; persistent change in bowel or bladder habits; persistent hoarseness or cough; persistent indigestion or difficulty in swallowing; and any change in a wart or mole.

Jesus of Nazareth

A New Interpretation of the Life of Our Savior

By Norman Vincent Peale

SYNOPSIS

This is the story of Jesus as it might have been written by a youth of 18 who lived in Palestine at the time. Narrator is Joshua, nephew of the disciple Peter. Joshua tells how Jesus appeared before Pilate and Herod and how He was sentenced by the mob.

CHAPTER 10

I did not witness the so-called trial of Jesus, but I heard about it from two members of the Sanhedrin, the court of justice. These learned men,

Joseph of Arimathea and Nicodemus, were friendly to Jesus and defended Him at the trial. Annas, the political leader of Jerusalem, examined Jesus first. Annas was pleased to hear that the Teacher's disciples had all deserted Him. He hoped the populace would be just as fickle. He drew his insignificant little body up to its full height and said, Jesus, you are accused of blasphemy; are you a blasphemer? Jesus's reply was quietly given.

"I have spoken openly to the world, I have always taught in synagogues and in the temple, where all Jews come together. I have said nothing secretly. Why do you ask me? Ask those who have heard me."

Annas smiled at Jesus in grudging admiration for what he regarded as a clever reply.

"So you demand proof; you insist upon a trial. Very well, I hold you for trial immediately upon the charge of blasphemy."

OLD ANNAS lost no time. The judges must have been bewildered by the sudden and unusual summons to assemble in the middle of the night.

I can imagine the scene in that room built of huge marble blocks. It is often called the Hall of Hewn Stones, and immense marble columns rise above the entrance.

The judges, or members of the Sanhedrin, are learned scholars and have worked a lifetime to attain the honor of membership in this body. They are supposed to have a good moral reputation and be honorable men, and many of them are that.

But even a good man can be twisted around the finger of an evil man, if the pretense is clever enough. Back of this trumped-up trial was a small, greedy power which hated Jesus with a venomous antipathy. But the good men in the Sanhedrin could not discern this plot.

UNDER JEWISH LAW, to bring about a conviction, it is necessary to get two witnesses to agree to a charge. Caiaphas had trouble doing this, for Nicodemus and Joseph discredited his witnesses.

For example, one testified that Jesus had said, "I will destroy this temple that is made with hands, and in three days I will build another not made with hands."

The next witness testified that Jesus had said "Destroy this temple, and in three days I will raise it up."

Caiaphas looked triumphantly at the judges, thinking himself very clever, but Joseph of Arimathea rose after conferring with Nicodemus. He pointed out that the first witness accused Jesus of saying He would destroy the temple, then restore it by sorcery (another crime), whereas the second witness said Jesus promised to restore the temple if someone else destroyed it.

"These witnesses discredit one another," he declared. A murmur rose in the room, and it was evident that most of the judge agreed with Joseph and Nicodemus.

Caiaphas was beside himself, especially when Joseph moved that the prisoner be discharged for lack of evidence. Many shouted "Aye" to this motion, but Caiaphas came up with another charge, namely, that Jesus had proclaimed Himself the Messiah.

Both Joseph and Nicodemus leaped to their feet, protesting the illegality of shifting charges in the midst of a trial, but old Annas overruled them.

BUT STILL they could get no two witnesses to agree. Beads of sweat glistened on Caiaphas's angry face. He was about to lose his case and with a lot of prestige. Jesus would go free. Nicodemus demanded acquittal.

Then Caiaphas, coached by crafty old Annas, played his last card. Standing up in his gorgeous robes, he raised two fingers of his right hand, indicating that he was about to put to the prisoner one of the solemn oaths of the Mosaic law—the oath of testimony.

"Jesus of Nazareth," thundered the high priest, "are you the Christ, the Son of God?"

A silence like the silence of death lay over the vast judgment hall.

The high priest reasoned that if Jesus said, "No," His influence with the people would wane and He would be forgotten. But should He answer, "Yes," in the presence of the Sanhedrin itself, He would stand self-condemned.

JESUS KNEW that while this answer would mean the end of earthly life, it afforded opportunity for His great witness.

"I am," He answered quietly. That was all Caiaphas wanted. He and Annas went into a frenzy, a simulated frenzy, tearing their garments and crying, "Blasphemy... it is blasphemy."

All the other judges tore their robes, too, as the law demands of a priest when blasphemy is committed in his presence.

Only two, Joseph and Nicodemus, did not tear their robes and thereby voted "No."

But from all the scribes and Pharisees, even the honorable ones who had been fooled by these sly tactics, came the terrible cry, "He is guilty! Death to Him!"

Then there was a great disturbance, and a man with blanched face came running down the great staircase from the crowd above. Caiaphas as if to attack him. The high priest recoiled and threw up his hands to protect himself. It was Judas.

"YOU PROMISED ME you would not harm Him," he cried. "You have lied. Here is your money, your 30 pieces of silver; you liars, you vipers!" Guards rushed forward and knocked him down as he threw the silver pieces before the two unworthy priests. The bag containing the money burst, and the coins rolled onto the stone floor.

Caiaphas shrank back to avoid contact. He must not defile himself with this silver—it was blood money.

The guards could not hold the frenzied Judas. Shrieking and wailing, he dashed up the long flight of steps and was gone. He ran outside the city into a field and, in the darkness of grief and remorse, hanged himself.

When they found him, his body was slowly turning in the breeze, a broken neck twisting the face into a self-loathing grimace. (Copyright, Norman Vincent Peale)

Ol' Swimming Hole

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—The ol' swimming hole has come to town! Many a barefoot lad of yesterday, who trudged miles through dusty roads to paddle in a creek, now has a son who can dive into the family's private pool from his back porch.

For the swimming pool industry today is in the midst of an amazing boom.

Typical of the rising young businessmen in this rapidly expanding field is Jerry Rudolph, 27, of Springfield, N. J., an ex-Army private and law student.

Three years ago during a vacation he learned that one of his father-in-law's neighbors had spent $9,000 on a backyard swimming pool.

"Why, I could build one for a third that," he told his father-in-law.

"If you can, you and I are in business," replied the father-in-law.

Rudolph went to the public library and read everything he could find on swimming pools. He decided that if he made a swimming pool of molded glass wool he could produce it cheaply enough to appeal to a mass market.

He quit law school and 10 days later formed a corporation on $30,000 of borrowed capital.

"At that time there were only 20,000 privately owned swimming pools in the country, and 90 per cent of them were in California," he said.

There were only 250 pool builders in the nation. Today there are more than 2,000. They expect to install some 75,000 pools in 1958.

The new-type swimming pools can be made from anything from concrete blocks with a vinyl plastic covering to steel, aluminum or glass wool. Rudolph's models include one 12-by-27-foot do-it-yourself model which a homeowner can buy for $795 and put into the ground by himself. "If you move," said Rudolph, "you can dig it up, put it on a truck and cart it to your new home."

Rudolph himself likes the explanation given to him by one of his customers.

"Well," said the man, "I've bought all the electrical gadgets my house'll hold, and I've got two cars in my garage. What else is left for me to buy—except a swimming pool?"

Dr. Everett Cattell, general superintendent of the Ohio Friends, will speak on the subject, "The Escape From the Cross."

"The Reconciliation of the Cross" was the subject of the third in a series of Holy Week messages delivered by Dr. Everett Cattell Wednesday noon in the Presbyterian Church.

The Rev. R. J. Hunter presided and Misses Culley and Ann Livingston were featured as soloists. The speaker, in explaining his text and scripture from the second chapter of Ephesians, said "The enmity between the Jews and Gentiles existed because there was enmity between both them and God. They represented the religious and the irreligious of Paul's day, which Dr. Cattell pointed out is the basic malice which exists in human hearts today."

Dr. Cattell concluded "We all stand beside Barabbas when we stand at the foot of the cross, and if honest, we admit Christ died for us, Christ on the Cross has broken the enmity between God and us, ought not our hearts to be broken before Him in reconciliation and pardon?"

but that the action was conditional and required further action, and that no further action was ever taken by the board.

He said that inasmuch as the court has held that official action was not taken by the board on Nov. 26, the counter-counter-petitions are properly filed and reduce the names withdrawn to 13. With 199 valid signatures on the original petition, there would remain 186 valid signatures, which is considerably more than the 75 required.

The court finds that the relators are entitled to a peremptory writ of mandamus ordering the county board to effect the transfer or send it to the state board of education for their final action, Judge Buzzard said.

The mandamus action was originally heard March 4, but due to illness of Judge Buzzard, the final ruling was not handed down until Wednesday.

Legal action is expected to be sought by county school board to find out if their new southern district will remain in effect or if they will have to abrogate it, due to the court ruling.

Since the Korean War in 1950, military aid has represented the biggest share of this assistance. If it hadn't been for this surprise Communist attack on Korea, most officials believe the task of helping Western Europe could have ended on schedule in 1952.

Upholds State Board's Decision

Grain In Government Storage Not Taxable, Rules High Court

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio Supreme Court Wednesday affirmed a decision by the State Board of Tax Appeals and ruled that grain held in government storage is not subject to tangible personal property tax. The board had reversed the local assessments.

The court said that "under terms of the note and loan agreements, wheat in storage is not property of the producer and, therefore, not taxable."

State Tax Commissioner Stanley J. Bowers said the unanimous decision made thousands of Ohio farmers who paid the tax after 1955 eligible for refunds. He pointed out that the tax will continue to apply to grain stored by farmers without obtaining a government loan.

The assessments were challenged by Flora A. Goodrich of near New Albany (Franklin County) for grain stored on her farm under a "farm storage loan" with the Commodity Credit Corp., and Ray H. Maddox and Kermit Grener for wheat stored in a Fayette County grain elevator.

In the Goodrich case, the state board said that since the government had control of the wheat and could order it shipped elsewhere on the tax listing date of Jan. 1, 1956, the wheat was "not used in business" and thus was not taxable.

In the cases of Maddox and Grener, the board ruled that Commodity Credit acquired full title to the stored wheat when it took over the producers' warehouse receipts.

The board added that the right of producers to reclaim the equivalent of their stored wheat, in event the market price should exceed the price paid, is a qualified right which Commodity Credit had discretion to take away.

In another case the high court decided to hear an appeal from Franklin County courts, which dismissed a suit involving a reimbursement for loss of billboard rights on property acquired by the state for highway purposes.

The county court had denied the Ohio Valley Advertising Co. $37,297 for 20 billboards along Ohio 7 between Bellaire and Bridgeport in Belmont County.

The lower court held that the company merely leased sites for the signs without having an interest in the condemned land. The company, however, contended it was deprived of property rights without compensation.

Ohio Grain Prices

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio Dept. of Agri. cash grain prices: No 2 wheat, mostly unchanged to one cent higher, 2.01-2.08, mostly 2.02-2.05; No 2 ear corn mostly unchanged to two cents higher, 1.13-1.30 per bu, mostly 1.18-1.25; or 1.62-1.86 per 100 lbs, mostly 1.68-1.78; No 2 oats mostly unchanged, .67-.77, mostly .70-.71; No 1 soybeans mostly unchanged to one cent lower, 2.12-2.17, mostly 2.12-2.13.

Frank's Pennzoil, Akron Joes Win In Tourney

Field Slips To 13; Four Salem Quintets To Perform Tonight

Five more games were played Wednesday night in the Salem "Little City" Cage Tourney with Frank's Pennzoil of Youngstown defeating Hall Ave. Inn of Warren 79-45, Akron Joe's All Stars whipping East Liverpool Cigarette Service 69-70, Cornecki AC of Beaver Falls, Pa. downing Whitacre Greer of Magnolia 72-70, Livingston Tire of Hubbard edging the East Palestine JCs 74-73 and the Seidle Co. of Fredonia blasting St. Mary of Massillon 73-53.

Chale Moore paced Franks over Warren with 24 points. High point man for the losers was John Smith with 14. Franks led 36-26 at the half.

Nineteen points by Nick Tepavich was instrumental in leading Cornecki's over Magnolia. Frank Paricano had 16 for the Whitacre Greer five.

The Pennsylvanians compiled a 56-30 intermission margin.

A tip in field goal in the last two seconds by Al Beegot gave Hubbard their victory over East Palestine. Mickey Yugovich, a Youngstown College ace, notched the tourney's biggest scoring effort thus far with 34 tallies. Bob Knight had 27 for the losers.

East Palestine led 32-24 at the half and 54-51 after three frames but faltered considerably in the final eight minutes.

Ten players scored for Seidle in their win over Massillon. Bill Dow was high for the winners with 17 while Dick Snyder had 17 for Massillon.

Second round action in the week long tournament will conclude tonight with 10 teams battling for five of Friday's eight quarter final berths.

Three quintets, Frank's Pennzoil of Youngstown, Akron Joe's All Stars and the Seidle Co. of Fredonia, are already in the quarter finals by virtue of their victories last night.

Friday's games will match together eight of the clubs from a field of 28 that began tourney play on Monday.

In tonight's encounters, the Farmers National Bank of Salem will meet the Lee Stockon Collegians of Canton at 6 while at 7 p.m. Capel Realty of Salem battles Livingston Tire of Hubbard.

Other tilts include John's Bar of Canton vs American Billiards of East Liverpool at 8; Dairy Queen of Salem vs Blepp-Coombs of Cleveland at 9 and the Sportsmen's Club of Salem vs Cornecki AC of Beaver Falls, Pa. at 10.

Frick Against Not Counting Records of Dodgers, Giants

NEW YORK (AP)—Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick today shrugged off a suggestion that he refuse to allow any batting records which may be set in the stopgap Los Angeles and San Francisco ball parks this season.

"I don't see how you can outlaw any park where major league ball is played," he said, "but I don't think the home run is going to be that much of a problem in either park anyway."

A national sports magazine said such players as Willie Mays of the San Francisco Giants and Duke Snider of the Los Angeles Dodgers each would have chances of playing 88 games in the two parks and suggested Frick take steps to prevent a "joke homerun record."

"I haven't seen the Coliseum (where the Dodgers will play their home games until a park is built)," Frick admitted, "but I don't think it will be any more of a home run haven than was the Polo Grounds, for instance."

center and 390-420 to right center. Seals Stadium, where the Giants will play, measures 355 feet down either line, 375 to left and right-center and about 410 or so to dead center.

Greene, Snead Named to Ohio All-Star Team

TROY, Ohio (AP)—Bobby Greene of Akron South and Ralph Snead of Ironton have been named to play in the first annual Ohio All-Star high school basketball game here June 20.

Green, a 6-foot, 1-inch, 170-pounder, is the first to be selected for the North team which will be coached by John Broski of Cleveland East Tech and Dan Baker of Wayne County's Northwestern, state Class AA and Class A champs, respectively.

Greene averaged 18.2 points a game this season, scoring 362 points.

Snead is the second player named to the south squad. Middletown's Jerry Lucas was the first member chosen.

Snead, who is also 6-foot-1, set an all-time Ironton scoring record of 426 points this past season for an average of 23.6 per game.

The South squad will be directed by Middletown Coach Paul Walker and J. Franklin Miller of Pleasantville, state Class AA and Class A semi-finalists, respectively.

The game, to be played at Hobart Arena here, will climax a two-day clinic. Both the clinic and the game are being sponsored by the Ohio High School Basketball Coaches Assn.

Former Champion Suspended by NBC

RACINE, Wis. (AP)—Battered former lightweight champion Wallace (Bud) Smith was pulled out of the ring by the National Boxing Assn. Wednesday, the 29th birthday of the Cincinnati fighter who said, "I can't believe I was ever champion."

The action was announced by NBA President Gillie Jackson of Racine who said, "It's just the humane thing to do." Jackson added that the suspension in all states affiliated with NBA "will remain in effect until Smith successfully passes a physical exam by a doctor appointed by us."

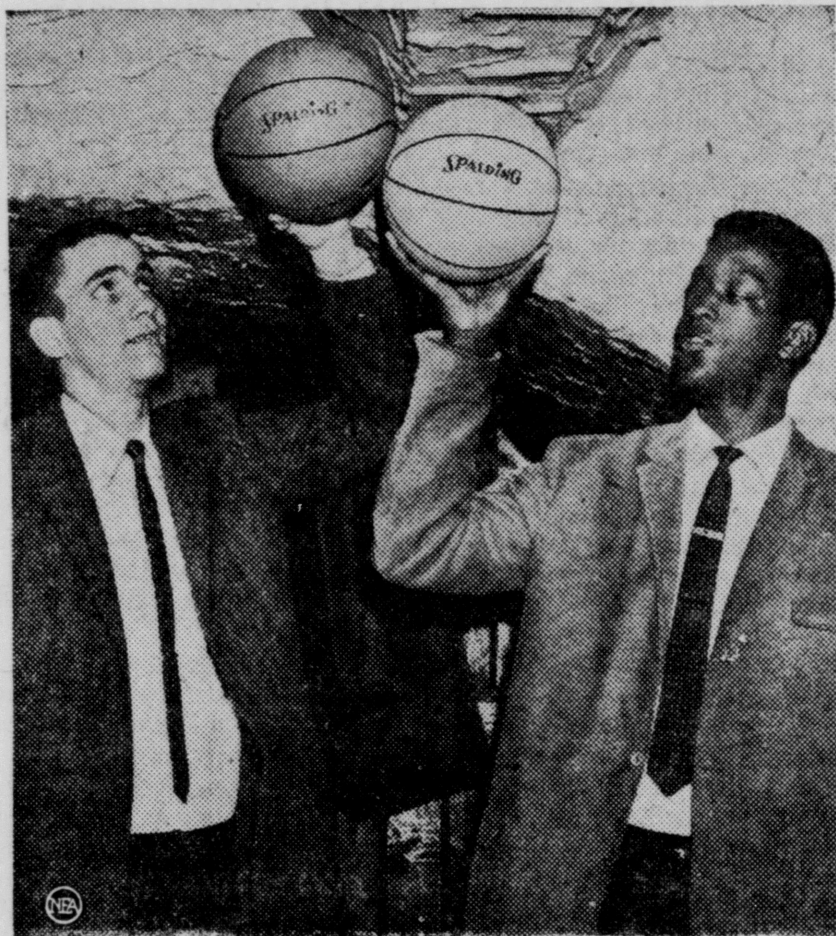

The suspension came less than 24 hours after Smith was hammered into submission by little-known Gomero Brennan of Bimini in the fifth round of their scheduled 10-rounder at Miami Beach Tuesday night.

It was the 11th straight licking for Smith who was knocked out in six of the bouts. The Miami Beach Boxing Commission also suspended Smith after the defeat.

Asked if he didn't think he ought to retire, Smith said:

"When you got money, you retire. When you're broke, you just quit. I think I'll just quit and try to get into the service. I never made no real money fighting."

"I can't believe I was ever champion."

HIGH BID—That's what it will take to get Jerry Lucas, left, 6-10 Middletown, O., High star, and 6-11 (The Hill) McGill of Los Angeles Thomas Jefferson High. These two, the most wanted schoolboy cagers in the land, will be on display for college—and pro—scouts in Spaulding's East-West cage classic at Monticello, N. Y., June 26.

Australia's Rose Makes 1st US Appearance Tonight

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP)—Australia's famed Murray Rose, who won three gold medals in the 1956 Olympics, makes his first competitive appearance in America here tonight.

The 19-year-old University of Southern California freshman is among 34 top swimmers entered in the 1500-meters freestyle race, which opens the three-day National AAU indoor swimming championships in Yale's 50-meter pool.

The event will be run off in heats, with the fastest time to determine the winner. Rose, the big favorite, is among the last group which probably will finish about 10 p.m.

A new champion is sure to be crowned in this distance test since George Breen of Cortland, N.Y., the 1957 winner, has been called to military duty.

News that Breen can't be here came as a disappointment to Rose, who with Breen rewrote the record book for the 1500-meter event at Melbourne.

Rose swam a first heat in an almost incredible 18:04. Breen, swimming in the third heat, posted a phenomenal 17:32.9, a world record for the distance. Then the English-born Rose roared back in the final to nip Breen with a 17:58.9 finish and take the gold medal.

Rose's competition tonight includes Bill Stewart of Michigan State, the NCAA champ; Jorge Granadas, the champion from Spain; John Parks, a Hawaiian now attending Indiana, and Gary Heinrich, a California schoolboy whiz.

More than 200 swimmers and divers are entered in the 15-event program.

Russell was removed from the game and taken to Jewish Hospital. X-rays showed his ankle was badly sprained.

Dr. Stan London said, "We'll start working on it first thing in the morning."

He said Russell "might be ready for Saturday and probably will be in the game" April 9 at Boston.

Russell hurt the ankle when he came down on it hard in the third quarter.

Wednesday night's game, which put the Hawks ahead 2-1 in the best of seven series, was as tough a battle as the first one. The first game was won by St. Louis 104-102. Last Sunday the Celtics won 136-112.

Hawk star Cliff Hagan is still high scorer of the series even though he was held to 18 points Wednesday night. He totaled 70 in the first two games.

Wednesday night's game was shown on closed circuit television in Kiel Opera House which adjoins the auditorium in which the game was played. Some 1,620 persons paid $2 a seat to see the action.

The next game will be played here Saturday night and then the Celtics and Hawks will meet in Boston April 9.

Grant, McLish Pitch For Cleveland Today

SCOTTSDALE, Ariz. (AP)—Cleveland winds up its exhibition schedule in Arizona with a doubleheader against the Baltimore Orioles here today.

Jim (Mudcat) Grant and Cal McLish will pitch in the "A" game for the Indians and two new Tribe pitchers—Don Ferrarese and Pete Wojey—will hurl in the "B" game.

Friday is an off day, then the Indians leave for El Paso, Tex., where they open their barnstorming tour with the San Francisco Giants Saturday. Herb Score will start in El Paso.

Local Cagers Win In Sharon Cage Tourney

The Buffalo, N.Y., Buffaloes, sponsored by Radio-TV station WKBW and composed of three Salem cagers and one each from Sebring and Goshen, won their opening round game Wednesday night in the Sharon, Pa. Junior Cage Tournament by snipping a Farrell-Sharon high school aggregation 59-58 in a sudden death, double-overtime thriller.

A follow up field goal by Larry Birkhimer with 30 seconds gone in the second extra session culminated an uphill fight by the Ohio squad.

The regulation game ended 53-53, and it was 57-57 after the first overtime. The Pennsylvanians had a chance to win it with two foul shots in the second overtime but made only one. A short time later Birkhimer successfully followed up a jump shot by Butch Platt to provide the win for his club.

Moe Meissner hauled in scoring honors for the victors with 20 points while Platt countered with 15. Birkhimer ended with 12 while John Sturgeon had 9 and Norm Hill 3 for the Buffaloes.

The team will play again tonight at 7:30 p.m. against a team composed of Collinwood high school players from Cleveland.

NY Rangers, Bruin Resume NFL Action

BOSTON (AP)—The New York Rangers, forced out of their hometown by a circus, play "host" to the Boston Bruins in the Boston Garden tonight in the fifth game of their best of seven Stanley Cup semifinal series.

Unable to play in Madison Square Garden in New York, the Rangers will have to supply the pucks and Boston Coach Mill Schmidt will have to name his starting lineup first before the teams attempt to break their series deadlock.

New York squared matters at 2-2 with a 5-2 victory Tuesday night, but Schmidt was confident the Bruins would bounce back in the all-important fifth game. The sixth game is scheduled for Boston Saturday.

Representatives Threaten Suit Against Gus D'Amato

WASHINGTON (AP)—Two Representatives today threatened congressional action unless one of two Western boxers gets a crack at the world heavyweight title.

Reps. Engle (D-Calif.) and Udall (D-Ariz.) agreed in a joint statement that the winner of the April 9 Eddie Machen-Zora Folley fight in San Francisco will be the only logical contender for the heavyweight crown held by Floyd Patterson of New York City.

They accused Patterson's manager, Gus D'Amato, of refusing to let the champion fight either Machen or Folley. They called it "Eastern city slicker tactics."

D'Amato was not available for comment. He is enroute to New York by ship from London.

Machen, undefeated in 23 fights, is from Redding, Calif. (population 11,880). Folley, with only 2 losses and 1 draw in 42 bouts, is from Chandler, Ariz. (population 3,799).

"If big Eastern promoters continue putting a freeze on small-town Western fighters, we believe Congress should act to prevent such monopolistic conduct," the Engle-Udall statement said.

Engle and Udall said the winner of the San Francisco fight should get a title shot some time this summer. In event of a draw, they said, they'll be satisfied if Patterson fights either Machen or Folley.

Unless there is such a title fight, the congressmen said, they will prepare legislation "to set up bona fide national standards and a national supervisory commission which will result in real national championships—not regulated titles controlled by a few New York manipulators."

League president, John Herman Jr., urged all managers and umpires to be present. Herman said that the leagues are still in need of additional coaches, umpires, and scorekeepers and that all interested persons may contact him on filling these vacancies.

On Sunday, April 13, a special "Award Day Program" will be held at 2:30 p.m. in the high school auditorium. All players, their parents and prospective players are welcome to attend.

Ben Barrett is in charge of securing a speaker for the program.

Skowron Hitting .415 With 7 Homeruns

Yank Slugger Has Batted Home 20 RBIs

By The Associated Press
It seems Bill Skowron always starts to worry whenever he's pushed into the cleanup spot in the New York Yankees' batting order during the regular season. So Manager Casey Stengel decided he'd put him there in the spring exhibitions and let him get his worryin' over early.

If Skowron still is worrying, this kind of worry could put the guys who make the tranquilizers out of business.

The Moose—not Mickey Mantle—leads the American League champs with a .415 batting average, seven home runs and 20 RBI. He rapped two homers again Wednesday as the Yanks beat Washington 7-5.

Skowron helped push Yankee starter Johnny Kucks into a 6-0 lead with his slam off Camilo Pascual in the second. But the young right-hander blew most of it and the score was 6-5 after the fifth when Neil Chrissy drove in three with a double. The Moose got a solo homer in the ninth off Bud Eyerly.

Best pitching was at Sarasota, Fla., where Boston beat Pittsburgh 2-0. Both runs were scored in the eighth on a pair of wild pitches by rookie southpaw Joe Gibbon. The Red Sox had just one hit, Don Buddin's first inping single, through seven off Ron Kline and Bob Smith. Ike DeLoik and Leo Kieley combined for the shut-out for Boston.

Jim Bunning went all the way for Detroit and allowed Cincinnati only three base runners over the last six innings, but then it was too late. Gus Bell homered in the first and Smokey Burgess slugged one with a man on in the second to beat the Tigers 3-2. Brooks Lawrence, Charley Rabe and Jay Hook shut off the Tigers with five hits.

The Tigers bought outfielder Stan Palys from the Redlegs for an undisclosed price. This may mean Cincinnati has decided to go with outfielder Vada Pinson, the rookie phenom up from Class C. But also it might mean the Reds are ready to swap Burgess for an established outfielder.

Philadelphia caught up late on Harry Anderson's eighth-inning homer, matched a Dodger run in the 12th and finally won 4-3 in 14 innings on a bases-loaded single by Willie Jones. Shortstop Andre Rodgers scored a two-run homer in the ninth that gave San Francisco a 9-8 win over Baltimore.

The Chicago Cubs whipped Cleveland 8-2, scoring three in the first two innings off Mike Garcia, and socking away four in the ninth off Hal Woodeschick on Bob Speake's homer and Lee Walls' bases-loaded double.

FIGHT RESULTS

Louisville, Ky.—Rory Calhoun, 161½, White Plains, N.Y., stopped Yolande Pompey, 165½, Trinidad, 6.

Rome, Italy — Bruno Scarabeli, 190½, Italy, stopped Emil Vidal, 194½, France, 6.

Glasgow, Scotland — Peter Keenan, 118, Scotland outpointed Graham Van Der Walt, 116, South Africa, 15. (Keenan retained British Empire bantamweight title).

Milan, Italy — Giancarlo Garbelli, 149½, Italy, outpointed Boswell St. Louis, 145½, Trinidad, 10.

HARD GOING — Harvey Haddix knows he is the "yes" or "no" man as far as the quality of the Cincinnati Reds' pitching staff goes this season so he snaps off curves with all he's got at Tampa's Plant Field.

Attendants at 39 Ohio Lakes Getting Ready For Fishermen

By The Associated Press
Attendants at 39 Ohio lake areas administered by the parks division of the Department of Natural Resources are getting ready to receive thousands of fishermen.

These lakes are in every section of the state. Here is a list of them and the counties where they can be found:

Buckeye Lake, Licking County; Burr Oak, Morgan; Delaware Reservoir, Delaware; St. Marys, Auglaize; Indian, Logan; Loraine, Shelby; Mosquito Reservoir, Trumbull; Portage, Summit; Alma, Vinton; Rocky Fork, Highland; Adams, Adams; Blue Rock, Muskingum; Cowan, Clinton; Harcus, Pickaway; Findley, Lorain; Forked Run, Meigs; Grant, Brown; Guilford, Columbiana; Harrison, Fulton.

Hocking, Hocking; Hope, Vinton; Hueston Woods, Butler and Preble; Jackson, Jackson; Jefferson, Jefferson; Kiser, Champaign; Knox, Knox; Madison, Madison; Mt. Gilead, Morrow; Pike, Pike; Punderson, Geauga; Pymatuning, Ashtabula; Richmond, Union; Tar Hollow, Ross; Hocking; Roosevelt, Scioto; Scioto Trail, Ross; Stonelick Creek, Clermont; Van Buren, Hancock; Veto, Washington, and White, Pike.

The new 1958 boat and motor licenses are on sale at these lakes.

The Ohio Division of Wildlife says 25 of the 48 ponds in the Delaware Reservoir wildlife area are now open for public fishing. The remainder of the ponds are too shallow for fishing, but are good refuge for breeding waterfowl.

State game protectors and rural mail carriers in 42 northwestern Ohio counties have started a two-week pheasant census project. The mail carriers are volunteers in the annual census and they'll note the number of cock and hen pheasants they see while making mail deliveries.

Results of the census are used in establishing new pheasant programs and in recommending the length of season and daily bag limit that should be set for pheasant hunting.

The state is waging war against pollution at Lake Hope in Vinton County. Authorities say acid water from abandoned coal mines flowing into Big Sandy Run, which feeds Lake Hope, is threatening the fish population again this year. Parks division men are dumping lime into Big Sandy Run at the rate of a ton per day in order to neutralize the acid.

The cost to the wildlife division in its battle against pollution at the lake climbed from $377 in 1953 to more than 2,000 in 1957.

Edward Dooner of Bedford has received notice from Boone and Crockett Club officials that his deer bagged in Geauga County was the third largest whitetail shot on the American continent and entered in the 1956-57 trophy competition.

The club is a nonpartisan group founded by Theodore Roosevelt for the purpose of recognizing outstanding big game trophies. Dooner's trophy, scoring 197½ points in the nontypical category, put Ohio on the record books for the first time in the club's history.

ASCOT TO OPEN SEASON
AKRON, Ohio — The Ohio running race season will get under way at Ascot Park Friday afternoon with a $2,500 Inaugural handicap as the feature of a nine-race program. Ascot will have a 44-day meeting.

Ken Venturi Determined to Win Masters

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP)—Ken Venturi is a young man with a mission in the Masters Golf Tournament, but the question is: Is he too eager?

"That is the danger," Byron Nelson, Ken's long-time tutor, said today, prior to the first-round tee-off.

"Venturi is playing beautifully. He is hitting the ball like a rifle shot. He is on fire with determination."

"I only hope he is not too intense. I don't think he is. But he is dying to win this tournament."

Winning the Masters title has been a driving ambition of the good-looking, 26-year-old San Franciscan since he blew it with a last-round 80 two years ago, when Jack Burke Jr. won.

"I aged 20 years in those four hours," Venturi said. "Ever since that day every shot I have made has been aimed at redeeming myself."

Venturi and Sam Snead have been tabbed favorites at 4-1 in an unofficial "book" which has spread over the 6,900-ard Augusta National course.

Venturi is the new hotshot of the rugged professional tour, leading money winner, victor in three winter tournaments and one of the most respected craftsmen among the pros themselves.

Snead is the ageless wonder from the Virginia Hill, at 46 still a superb athlete with a flawless swing who drives the ball like a cannon blast. He has won more golf tournaments and probably more money than any man alive but he is still followed by the ghost of dubbed putts and missed opportunities.

The starting field numbers 96 and includes most of the golf masters of the world. Seven countries in addition to the United States are represented.

Calhoun Wins Boxing Bout Over Pompey

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Rory Calhoun scored a sixth round technical knockout over Yolande Pompey in a televised fight here Wednesday night that sent Pompey to a hospital for about an hour.

Dr. John Ambach halted the fight after Calhoun connected with a hard right to Pompey's jaw in the fifth. Pompey subsequently couldn't move his neck.

Physicians at St. Joseph Infirmary here said Pompey had suffered a spasm of the neck muscles. The fighter from Trinidad said he suffered a similar injury two years ago in England.

He as released from the hospital after doctors put 10 stitches in a cut over his left eye which Calhoun had opened in the third round.

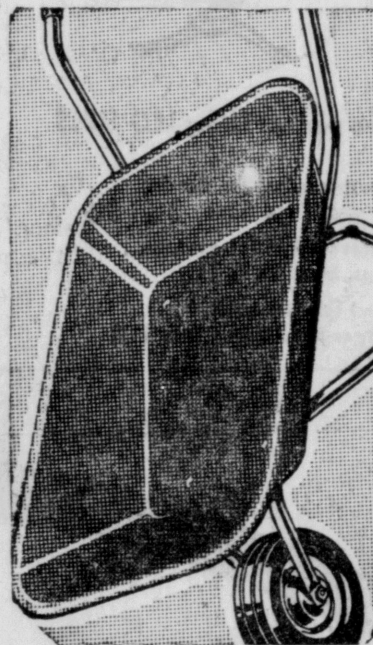

The happy Calhoun, who now has a 34-3-1 record, said Wednesday night was "the first time in a long time I felt strong and ready to punch."

Large Increase Over '54 Predicted

Nearly Million to Vote
In Primaries on May 6

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Nearly a million Ohioans will vote in the presidential election year. May 6 primary elections. Ohio's primary election total was 869,222 four years ago. High total for the primaries was 1,355,055 in 1952, a presidential election year when voting usually runs heavier. The primary total in 1956 was 1,222,463. Brown, who has won a reputation for election forecasts, said he based this year's prediction on registration reports from county election boards and voter-interest aroused by a large field of candidates. Reports showed big registration increases in Cuyahoga, Franklin and Lucas counties. Despite a drop in registrations in some counties including Mahoning, eligibility lists remained high because of heavy voting in the 1956 presidential election. Ohioans who voted in the 1956 election still can vote this year even if they failed to cast ballots last year. Registrations to vote hold good for two years. Twenty-two of Ohio's 88 counties require registration by all voters. Seventeen other counties require registration only in portions of their areas. Residents of non-registration areas can vote in this year's primaries if they are 21 years old or will reach that age before next Nov. 4, date of the general election. Voters also must have lived in the state a full year and in their county and precinct for 40 days.

Ohio Town Seeks Aid
In Providing Relief

PORTSMOUTH, Ohio (AP)—New Boston, a town of approximately 5,000 within the corporate limits of Portsmouth, Wednesday asked President Eisenhower and Gov. C. William O'Neill for financial aid or its unemployed.

Mayor Vernal Riffe Sr. said the relief burden was growing because of an increased number of jobless, due to curtailment of operations at the Portsmouth plant of the Detroit Seal Corp.

The steel mill, located in New Boston, normally employs about 4,000 workers, but company officials said employment would be cut to 1,500 this week as furnaces and other departments close because of lack of orders.

Thinking
It Over--
For Lent

By Robert L. Dieffenbacher, D.D.

(Written for NEA Service)

"Watch and pray that ye enter not into temptation," said Jesus to His disciples on that last Thursday of His life on earth. He went on to say "the spirit is willing but the flesh is weak."

This warning has run through the centuries. Many have listened. Multitudes have desired to avoid temptation, but many have given in to the fleshly desires of the world. Too many people forget the first few words of the request. They do not "watch and pray" for deliverance from temptation.

We cannot avoid temptation by our own will power. We must have our own will power. We must have of sin by turning from the very preliminary of sin.

Let us carry this message with us not only through Maundy Thursday but through all the days of our lives.

Inside Labor By Victor Riesel

You just can't get a fixed price list from the "boy" on the high cost of leaving a union alone. Some of the sharp operators exposed by the McClellan committee have been willing to sell out their holdings in a union for cash, for cars, for life-time pensions, for the gift of a small local union and, of course, for an agreement that they need not return what they have taken. This you discover as you go through the breakdown of the first 10 million dollars worth of union monies toyed with by some of the witnesses before the committee.

There is, for example, a fellow by the name of "The Cisco Kid," better known as Angelo Inciso, of Chicago. He ran a citywide local of general workers in what is now known as the Allied Industrial Workers.

Before Inciso got off the committee stand and returned to his bodyguards, the national Allied Industrial Workers headquarters decided it might be the better part of public relations to part company with "The Kid." There was a conference.

To rid themselves of Inciso, the national union simply handed him the Chicago outfit worth $300,000.

HE'S HAPPY now running the Windy City local known as Local 286, Industrial Workers of America, Inc.

The Allied Industrial Union made no effort to recover any of the assets. But this national outfit was used to such bargains. It paid extortioner Johnny Dio $16,000 to quit. And it handed Dio's good friend, Tony Doria, formerly its national secretary-treasurer, $25,000 plus a $5,000 Cadillac when he "retired."

Those who were rewarded with lush pensions for their outstanding inability to note the difference between their own money and the union's include, of course, Dave Beck. The former teamo chief is now receiving $1,000 a week for life, though he has not yet repaid the $370,000 the McClellan committee says he stole from the union. And he is living virtually rent-free in the estate that cost the union about a quarter of a million dollars to build and furnish—miniature railroad system included.

ANOTHER landed pensioner is William E. Maloney, who also did not account for $350,000 he drew a millionaire and though he did not account for $50,000 he drew from the Operating Engineers' Union without even disturbing his rest to make out a voucher. There is also an $85,000 item on the books which went for maintenance of his $15,000 yacht which the new administration, headed by Joe Delaney, must now sell at a loss.

Some of the boys didn't quite make the big pensions and severance pay deals. But give them "A" for effort. They tried but their outfits were too small to stand up against the vox pop.

A fellow by the name of Sam Byers, for instance, resigned his presidency of the Laundry Workers Union after it was learned that, under his administration, the national secretary-treasurer "lost track" of almost one million dollars in pension and welfare funds. The money was never recovered. But Byers became president-emeritus at $385 a week. After a few collections he was forced to quit.

Two leaders of the old AFL Textile Workers Union resigned under a complete retirement plan which would have cost the union close to $100,000. They and the union had to abandon the scheme under pressure from George Meany and the national AFL-CIO.

SOME OF THE union chiefs involved didn't steal money. They didn't have to all the time. They often simply used it as their own principal, lending it to friends and business associates alike.

One deal involved the shifting of $500,000 in Teamster funds by Jim Hoffa from a Detroit bank to a Florida financial house to establish credit for a venture. Beck simply took 1 1/2 million dollars, one time and $999,000 another time and lent the sums to companies from which he profited personally.

EASTER PAGEANT—In the natural setting of the hill and canyon country east of Kenton, Okla., which bears a strong resemblance to the Holy Land, the Kenton Easter Pageant will be held for the seventh consecutive year. Beginning with Christ bearing his cross to Golgotha, above, on Good Friday, the pageant is conducted in three services, concluding on Easter Sunday. The cast of 200 is drawn from ranchers, housewives, ministers, teachers and students from the surrounding area. In good weather upwards of 5,000 persons have visited Kenton (population 90) to witness the production. The services are strictly non-denominational.

There was another Teamster loan of $1,200,000 which the borrower is having difficulty repaying. These details aren't known to the public which has only a general impression of his loose usage of other people's money.

Yet the public has been angered and now wants action. That's what prompted Sen. John Kennedy to say quietly to a friend, after George Meany's angry testimony before the Senate labor subcommittee the other day:

"Labor's leaders are being shortsighted. They're not properly estimating public opinion. The people definitely want something done."

Some New Zealand farmers hunt whales as a sideline. Waste from whale butchery is used to fertilize the farmers' fields.

Hops impart the characteristic flavor to ale and beer. Ale has a tarter taste than beer because it contains more hops and because of a higher degree of fermentation.

Dulles Concedes U.S. Taking Propaganda Beating from Reds

WASHINGTON (AP) — On the testimony of Secretary of State Dulles, the United States is taking a propaganda beating from the Soviet Union.

Three times in three months Dulles has conceded important victories to what he calls the cleverness and unscrupulousness with which the Soviets peddle abroad policies that the United States considers unsound.

The latest such admission came at a new conference when Dulles said that the Soviet announcement of suspension of nuclear tests had won "a certain propaganda victory" which the United States had known about in advance but been unable to offset.

Other instances came last March 4, concerning the Soviet drive for a quick summit conference, and last Jan. 10 on the general subject of disarmament.

No New Steps Indicated
Some officials at lower levels of government say privately the administration needs to be more aggressive in propaganda. Dulles has given no indication of any new steps to meet the Soviet challenge in that field.

Some informed officials feel the problem is beyond the powers of the U. S. Information Agency to deal with. USIA is primarily concerned with such things as running the Voice of America and overseas information libraries rather than making high-level policy.

Sen. Humphrey (D-Minn.) told the Senate most Americans have no appreciation "of the scope of the Soviet victory" in announcing suspension of nuclear tests.

Humphrey charged that "the United States stands before the world without leadership and without a spokesman."

Sen. Aiken (R-Vt) replied with a statement upholding the administration's decision on nuclear tests.

Dulles disclosed that top officials had met with President Eisenhower within the last 10 days and considered whether it would be wise to "try to steal a march on the Soviets by ourselves announcing a suspension of testing at least for a time."

The decision was that the government's responsibilities to the American people and "perhaps to humanity" to keep this country strong and well armed would not permit such a step "merely for propaganda advantage."

"We deliberately accepted this propaganda thrust," Dulles said, "knowing we were going to have to take it, rather than do something which we felt was basically unsound."

Takes 2 Lines of Argument
The United States has countered with two lines of argument:

1. The Soviets, having just concluded a long series of tests, have no reason for more now. But even so, they left themselves free to resume tests after the first U.S. test blast possibly later this month.

2. Continued U.S. testing is necessary to develop smaller and cleaner nuclear weapons and perhaps defenses against intercontinental missile, because there is no disarmament agreement.

Officials are not sure that either of these arguments will really get across to the millions of people in Europe and Asia who may be worried about the health hazards of continued testing.

New! Fresh-Frozen! WHIPPED CREAM PARTY CAKE made with Fresh Butter, Cream, Eggs!

Morton DEVIL'S FOOD Whipped Cream Cake

Hang up your apron, Mother!
Morton's done all the mixing, baking and frosting for you.

Almost a full third of this cake is heavy whipped cream between light devil's food layers made with fresh butter and whole eggs—topped with a chocolate-y butter-cream frosting.

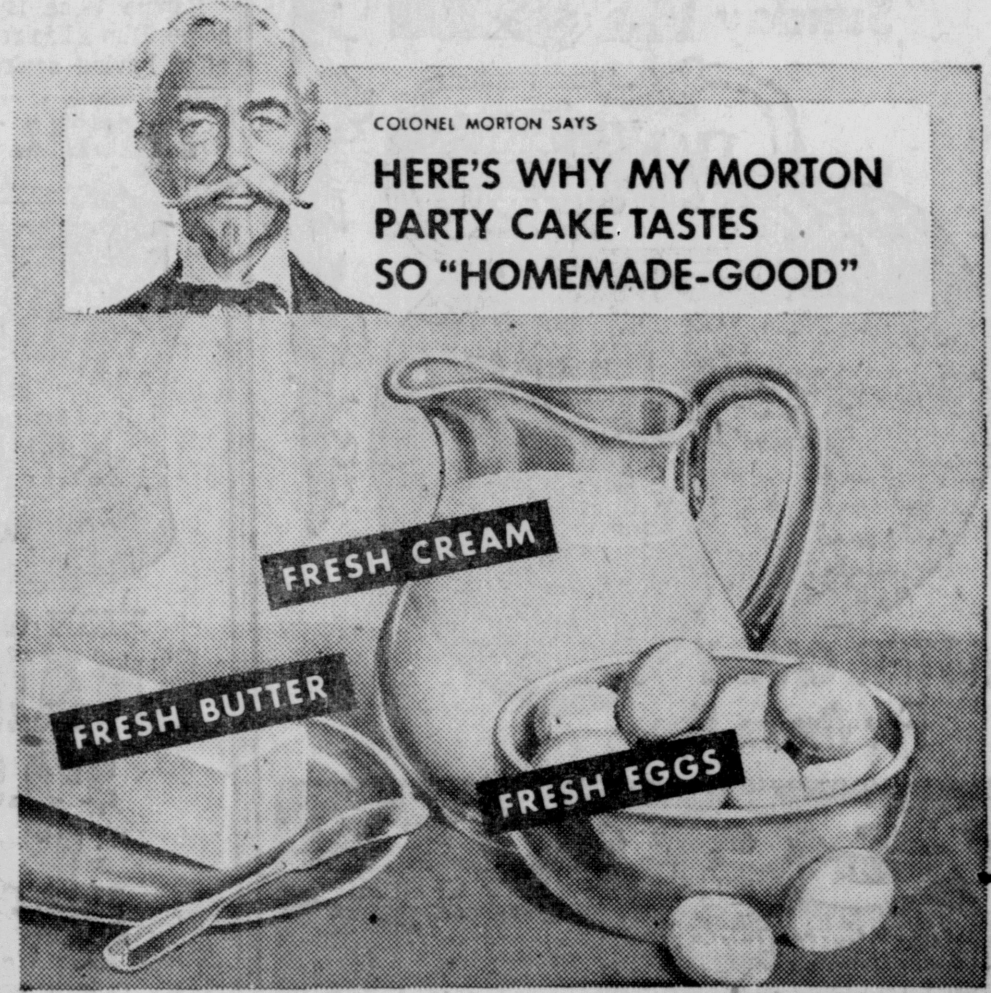

And Morton's magic gives you the same moist, delicate texture, the same wonderful richness with every cake you buy.

Why? Morton Cakes are "fresh-frozen" (quick-frozen while they're still oven-hot) to capture that homemade goodness and flavor!

Just Thaw and Serve!

Shrimp, Mushrooms for Pizza Garnish

The growing popularity of pizza among youngsters and oldsters alike has turned the art of pizza-making into a do-it-yourself fad. Armed with a box of pizza mix and any of a number of garnishes, from anchovies to American cheese, and small hot sausage bits, the culinary artist can turn out TV or party snacks with little effort, and still win praise for her creations.

Shrimp and Mushroom Pizza
1 package pizza mix, 1 5-ounce can small shrimp or ½ lb. fresh or frozen shrimp, 1 small can sliced mushrooms, 1 small onion peeled and sliced thin, ½ clove garlic, crushed, 1 tablespoon salad oil or olive oil, ¼ pound sharp cheddar cheese, sliced thin.

Prepare pizza dough as directed on package; let rise. Drain shrimp, rinse with cold water and drain again. Drain mushroom. Slice onion. Open can of Appian Way Pizza sauce and add to it the crushed garlic and salad oil. Pat out dough in a greased or oiled pizza pan, two 9-inch pie plates or a baking sheet.

Spread with sauce. Then dot with shrimp, sliced mushrooms and onion slices. Add cheese.

Bake in a hot oven of 425 degrees for 20 to 25 minutes, until crust is well browned and filling bubbly. Serve piping hot.

EASTER SOUP

This is the traditional beginning to the Polish Easter feast, a smooth flavorful soup.

1 pound Polish sausage, 2 quarts water, 2 tablespoons vinegar or lemon juice, 1 tablespoon horseradish, 2 tablespoons flour, 1 cup cream, Salt to taste.

Cook sausage in water one hour. Remove sausage, cool broth and refrigerate over night.

Skim fat off broth. Add vinegar, horseradish and salt to broth, mix well.

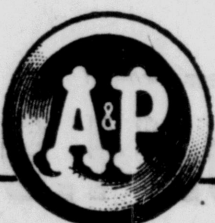

Combine flour and cream and stir well into fat mixture.

Place broth over medium heat, add fat mixture and blend well. Bring just to boiling point, stirring constantly.

Savory Green Beans

Ingredients: 2 tablespoons butter or margarine, 1 medium-sized onion, 1 can (about 1 pound) French sliced Blue Lake green beans, salt, freshly-ground pepper.

Method: Melt butter in 8-inch skillet over low heat; add onion. Cook slowly, stirring often, until wilted and golden. Meanwhile heat beans in a 1-quart sauce-pan rapidly; drain. Mix onions with beans. Makes 4 servings.

Lemon Chiffon Puff Pie

Almost effortless, this lemon chiffon puff pie is like a spring breeze. To give pie the hue of daffodils, use lemonade concentrate and add a few drops of yellow food coloring.

For a bridal shower, add pink coloring to the lemonade filling. If you happen to be in a pansies-are-for-thoughts mood, use grape concentrate.

Lemon Puff Pie

(Yield: 1 9-inch pie)

One envelope unflavored gelatin, 2-3 cup sugar, ½ teaspoon salt, ¼ cup water, 1 can (6 ounces) frozen concentrated lemonade or lemonade, 1 cup ICY COLD evaporated milk, whipped, 1 9-inch baked pie shell.

Mix together gelatin, sugar and salt in saucepan. Stir in water. Place over low heat, stirring constantly, until gelatin and sugar are dissolved. Remove from heat; add undiluted concentrate. Chill, stirring frequently, until the mixture mounds slightly when dropped from a spoon. Fold into whipped evaporated milk. If limeade is used add a few drops green food coloring to tint pale green. If lemonade is used, add few drops yellow food coloring. Turn into prepared pie shell; chill until firm.

Note: To whip evaporated milk, chill in freezer tray of refrigerator until ice crystals form around edges. Turn into chilled bowl and whip with rotary beater or on high speed of electric mixer until the milk is stiff.

Crust: Melt 3 tablespoons butter or margarine in a 10-inch skillet; add 1½ cups coconut (about 4 ounces) and stir over medium heat until coconut is golden brown. Press mixture firmly on bottom and sides of 9-inch pie pan. Let stand at room temperature until cool.

New Garden

Mrs. Russell Wilson of Beloit called on her mother, Mrs. Neta Wright.

Mrs. Elizabeth King is improving at her home following surgery, at a Youngstown Hospital.

Twelve friends of Richard Stoudt of New Garden helped him celebrate his 4th birthday Monday afternoon at a party given by his mother, Mrs. Karl Stoudt.

Games were played assisted by Mrs. Alfred Stoudt.

HERE'S A Baking Day SECRET

It's the balance of ingredients in baking powder that governs its leavening action. Only when these are scientifically balanced can you be sure of uniform action in the mixing bowl plus that final, balanced rise to light and fluffy texture in the oven.

Balanced Double Action means Better Baking!

Apple Pudding

Ingredients: 1-3 cup sifted flour, 1 1/4 teaspoons double-acting baking powder, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1 large egg, 3/4 cup sugar, 1 teaspoon vanilla, 1 cup finely diced pared tart apple (1 medium-size), 1/2 cup chopped (medium-fine) walnuts.

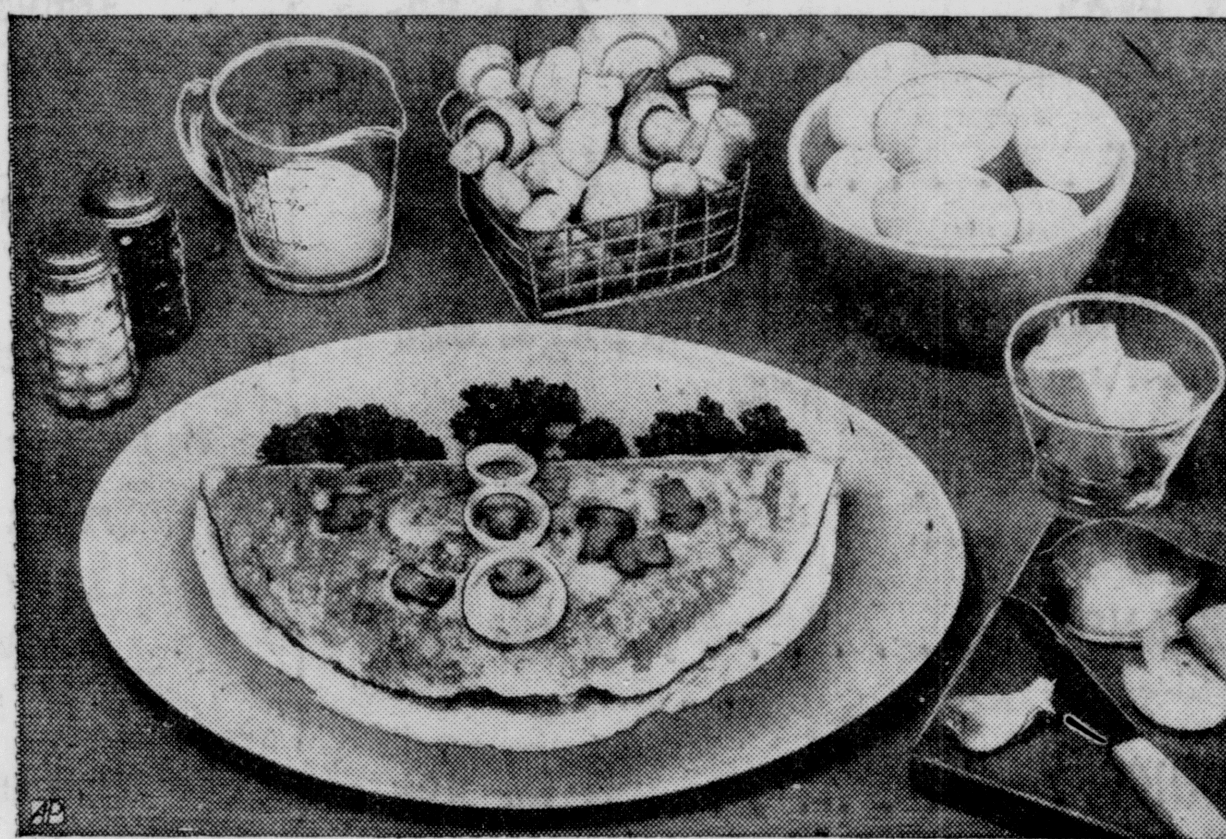

Method: Sift together the flour, baking powder and salt. Beat egg until thick and pale yellow; gradually beat in sugar until very thick and ivory colored. Beat in vanilla. Fold in sifted dry ingredients, then apple and walnuts.

Turn into buttered 9-inch pie plate and bake in a slow (325 degrees) oven 5 minutes or until slightly brown on top and firm to touch. (There will be a thin meringue-like topping).

Cool; cut into wedges while still warm and serve with whipped cream only slightly sweetened and flavored with vanilla.

Pudding must be removed carefully with wide spatula from pie plate because it has a tendency to crumble. Makes 6 servings.

Mushrooms and Onions Enrich Omelet

By CECILY BROWNSTONE

What's better to taste than the true flavors of the foods that go into a dish—simple and unadulterated?

This recipe for mushroom and onion filled omelet belongs in that class. Served with crusty rolls and fresh butter it makes a mighty satisfying luncheon dish.

Mushroom and Onion Omelet
Ingredients: 1/2 pound medium-sized mushrooms, 1 medium-sized onion, 3 tablespoons butter, 1/4 teaspoon salt, freshly-ground pepper, 4 portions plain omelet.

Method: Wipe each mushroom with a damp cloth; do not wash or peel. Slice very thin vertically so caps and stems are attached. Peel onion and quarter; slice into thin vertical strips.

Melt butter in an 8-inch skillet, that has a tight-fitting cover, over low heat. Add mushrooms and onion; cover and cook about 5 minutes, turning mushrooms several times. Uncover; sprinkle with salt and freshly-ground pepper to taste; continue to cook over slightly increased heat, stirring several times, until juices evaporate and mixture begins to brown—about 5 minutes.

Make 4 individual omelets; spread one-quarter of the mushroom mixture (a generous 1/4 cup) over one half of each omelet; fold other side over and slide onto heated plate. Makes 4 servings.

Omelet Tips
Professional makers of plain French omelets usually use a cast-aluminum skillet for their creations.

Omelet cooks agree that the skillet should be well-seasoned—that means that the pores of the metal are impregnated with salad oil. Some experts never wash their omelet skillets; some wash them occasionally.

If you cover your omelet skillet with a film of salad oil in between using it, you'll find this treatment helps to keep the eggs from sticking. Wipe out the film of oil with a paper towel before cooking the omelet.

The skillet should be heated slowly before the butter in which the omelet is to be cooked is added. The pan should then be hot enough to make the butter hiss but not brown.

For a plain omelet, add water rather than milk to the eggs in the proportion of 1 teaspoon per egg.

Beat the eggs for the omelet with a fork so that the yolks and whites are combined but the eggs are not overly frothy.

Omelet experts use moderate heat, shake the pan back and forth with the left hand and stir with the times of a fork, kept as flat as possible, then rolled up the omelet with the fork.

A 7-or-8-inch pan may be used for individual 2-egg omelets with 1 tablespoon of butter for the cooking. Professionals usually use a 9-inch pan with eggs for individual omelets and 1 tablespoon of butter for the cooking.

Bavarian Pie with Lemon Stars

The delightful tang and fragrance of freshly squeezed lemon juice adds zest to this special Easter pie. It's a beautiful dessert with a springtime delicacy.

Fresh Lemon Bavarian Pie
(Yield: 6 Servings)

Soften 1 envelope unflavored gelatin in 1/4 cup cold water and set aside. Beat 4 egg yolks until they are thick and lemon colored. Gradually beat in 1/2 cup sugar, 1/2 cup fresh lemon juice and 1/2 teaspoon salt.

Cook over hot water or very low heat until mixture coats a metal spoon, about 10 minutes, stirring to dissolve gelatin.

Blend in lemon rind. Chill until mixture begins to thicken. Beat egg whites until they stand in soft peaks. Gradually beat in 1/2 cup sugar. Fold into lemon mixture. Quickly fold in 1-3 cup heavy cream, whipped. Turn into a cold, baked 9-inch pie shell. Chill until firm and ready to serve. Just before serving, garnish top as desired with whipped cream and candied lemon slices.

Fresh Lemon Meringue Pie
(Yield: 6 servings)

Combine 1 cup sugar, 1-3 cup cornstarch and 1/2 teaspoon salt in top part of a double boiler. Blend in 1/4 cup of cold water. Stir in 1 1/4 cups hot water. Cook over low direct heat 10 minutes or until thick, stirring constantly. Add 1-3 cup fresh lemon juice, cover and cook over hot water (not boiling) until very thick, about 10 minutes. Add a little of the hot mixture to beaten egg yolks and then stir into the remaining filling.

Cook over hot water 2 minutes longer to cook egg yolks. Add 1 teaspoon grated lemon rind and tablespoons butter or margarine. Cool. Pour into a 9-inch unbaked pastry shell. Cover with meringue and bake in a preheated slow oven (325 degrees F.) 15-20 minutes or until brown. Serve cold.

Meringue: Combine 3 egg whites with 1/2 teaspoon salt and beat until soft peaks are formed. Gradually beat in 1-3 cup sugar and continue beating until stiff. Spread over pie. Bake as directed above.

Chicken, Mushrooms

Two cups cubed cooked chicken, 1 cup cooked elbow macaroni, 1 cup finely diced celery, 1/4 cup broken walnut meats, 3-ounce can chopped broiled mushrooms, 1/2 cup mayonnaise, 2 tablespoons chili sauce, 1 teaspoon grated onion, 1/2 cup fine buttered cracker crumbs, 1/2 cup shredded American cheese. Place chicken, macaroni, celery and walnuts in mixing bowl. Drain and add mushrooms to chicken mixture. Blend mushroom broth, and into mayonnaise and stir in chili sauce and onion.

Pour over contents in mixing bowl. Mix together lightly but well. Place in four 10-ounce individual baking dishes and sprinkle lightly with buttered crumbs and then with the cheese. Bake in preheated 350 degrees F. oven until thoroughly hot, about 20 minutes. Serve immediately. (Makes 4 servings.)
